

WASHINGTON, DC—Representative Steve Driehaus today welcomed the announcement of two U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) grants totaling $375,000 for the Children's Hospital Medical Center in Cincinnati. The funding will support medical research at the hospital.

"This is great news for Children's Hospital," said Rep. Driehaus. "The hospital's cutting edge research is helping us develop new treatments and answer questions about challenging illnesses. These smart investments will allow doctors and researchers to continue carrying out their critical work."

According to HHS, a grant of \$300,000 will support cancer biology research into immunity to tumor-associated antigens. An additional grant of \$75,000 will fund research on psychosocial intervention for youth with type 1 diabetes.